The proposed action consists of reissuance of a Kansas/NPDES Water Pollution Control permit for an existing facility. The existing facility is a three-cell wastewater stabilization lagoon system with a minimum of 120 days detention time. The facility receives domestic wastewater from residential and commercial areas. The total detention time at design flow is 141 days. This permit contains limits for Biochemical Oxygen Demand, Total Suspended Solids, and Ammonia. The permit contains monitoring for pH, E. coli, Total Phosphorus, Nitrates + Nitrites, Total Kjeldahl Nitrogen, and Total Nitrogen. This NPDES discharging lagoon wastewater treatment facility has been reviewed for eligibility for the MDV for ammonia and has been determined to be eligible. Eligibility was determined through analysis of the facility's highest attainable criteria (HAC) for ammonia. The ammonia effluent limit was determined on November 5, 2025 by calculating the 99th percentile ammonia value from the facility's discharge monitoring reports resulting in an ammonia limit of 13.4 mg/L for this facility. However, due to anti-backsliding, the previous permit ammonia limit of 12.5 will be applied.

Persons wishing to comment on or object to the draft documents and/or permit applications must submit their comments in writing to the Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) if they wish to have the comments or objections considered in the decision-making process. All written comments regarding the

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Administrative Regulations (Revised)

(Editor's Note: The following notice of hearing on proposed administrative regulations, which was originally published in the January 29, 2026, Kansas Register, is being republished to clarify the regulation summary for K.A.R. 4-8-44. Canada thistle was on the Category B noxious weeds list before the updates, and it will remain on this list if the proposed amendments are adopted.)

A public hearing will be conducted at 1:00 p.m. April 7, 2026, in the 1st floor meeting room 124 of the Kansas Department of Agriculture, 1320 Research Park Dr., Manhattan, Kansas, to consider the adoption of the proposed regulations. The public hearing will be conducted in person and via video conferencing system. Members of the public who wish to attend the public hearing virtually must pre-register at <https://kansasag.zoom.us/j/87390624852?pwd=ab8KmR9F4qDoTmZRe57cyrwbiD5aKc.1&jst=1>.

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

This 60-day notice of the public hearing shall constitute a public comment period for the purpose of receiving written public comments regarding the proposed regulations. All interested parties may submit written comments prior to the hearing by mail or email to Kansas Department of Agriculture, Attn: Ronda Hutton, 1320 Research Park Dr., Manhattan, KS 66502, or ronda.hutton@ks.gov. Comments may also be made via the Kansas Department of Agriculture's website at <https://www.agriculture.ks.gov/public-resources/public-comments>.

All interested parties will also be given a reasonable opportunity to orally present their views regarding the adoption of the proposed regulations during the hearing. To give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to request that each participant limit any oral presentation to five minutes. These regulations are proposed for adoption on a permanent basis.

A summary of each proposed regulation, their economic impact, and their environmental benefit follows:

K.A.R. 4-8-27 has been amended to consolidate all control methods for the Noxious Weed Act into one regulation to enhance clarity and ease of reference for stakeholders.

K.A.R. 4-8-28 through K.A.R. 4-8-37 and K.A.R. 4-8-40 are proposed for revocation because all control methods are now consolidated into K.A.R. 4-8-27 rather than spread across multiple regulations.

K.A.R. 4-8-44 is the designation list of noxious weeds. It is amended to remove pignut and add spotted knapweed and diffuse knapweed to Category A noxious weeds. It also adds common teasel and cutleaf teasel to Category B noxious weeds and Amur honeysuckle to Category C noxious weeds.

The proposed regulations are not mandated by federal law, nor do they exceed the requirements of any federal law because there are no federal programs available.

Some businesses, local county governments and private landowners will be affected if they own or manage large parcels of land in the eastern and central portions of the state since they will be required to control the proposed new noxious weeds.

The removal of noxious and invasive weed infestations from real property has been shown to greatly increase the ecological value of the land through increased biodiversity, habitat availability and decreased competition for resources and allowing native and desirable species to flourish. The economic benefits are reflected in increased property values as well as increased yield for crops. Not all landowners will bear the cost, and prudent landowners will already be engaged in noxious weed management. Landowners may also benefit from participating in the pesticide cost-share program in their county to help manage noxious weeds.

Kansas Register

Volume 45 - Issue 7 - February 12, 2026

Individual landowners may be impacted by costs associated with the purchase of herbicides or professional pest control companies to manage noxious weeds on private property. Small employers and the public are unlikely to be affected, unless they own or supervise land infested with the proposed noxious weeds. Effective weed management is expected to provide economic benefits to the public and landowners, such as increased crop and grass yield, reducing long-term management costs after weed populations are controlled or eradicated, and increased property values of land previously degraded by noxious weed infestation.

Most of the implementation and compliance costs will affect local county governments and private landowners. The extent of some noxious weed infestations is difficult to calculate. An estimation of existing infestations was made by determining the extent of the species known habitats. Common teasel and cutleaf teasel primarily infest highway rights-of-way, with approximately 10% of major roadway rights-of-way in affected counties known to be infested, which equates to around 12,841 acres for each species, based on data provided by the Kansas Department of Transportation. Amur honeysuckle, widely planted as an ornamental shrub in residential yards, is predominantly found near metropolitan areas, but may also be found along streams and wooded rural areas. The current infestation for Amur honeysuckle was calculated to be 0.5% of the acreage of the metropolitan counties, or 42,131 acres. This data came from the Institute for Policy & Social Research at The University of Kansas. The infestation of spotted knapweed and diffuse knapweed is not as pervasive; however, it is a noxious weed that is at a stage where efforts could eradicate the species. The 60 acres of spotted knapweed is a known number determined by survey, and there have been no reports of diffuse knapweed in Kansas at this time.

Based on county weed departments in annual reports, it was estimated that 11% of the spotted knapweed, and 10% of the teasels and honeysuckle would be treated annually based on the weed category they are listed under. The cost per acre of control of all the proposed new noxious weeds was calculated using the cost of the herbicides available for controlling these weeds, and the rates of application provided by the labels of those herbicides. A 25% wholesale discount on pesticides was included as that is commonly offered to counties by the chemical distributors. The costs of controlling each proposed new noxious weed species vary due to the various types of herbicide prices and control methods, which can be tailored to the specific needs and budgets of counties or landowners.

To minimize the cost and impact of the proposed regulations, Amur honeysuckle was proposed as a Category B noxious weed, which requires more intensive containment efforts. Following feedback from the counties regarding the practical challenges of managing Amur honeysuckle, the Kansas Department of Agriculture (KDA) revised its initial proposal and downgraded Amur honeysuckle to Category C, which imposes less stringent management and containment requirements. This adjustment reduces the regulatory and financial burden on counties and landowners. Further, KDA provides a range of options in control methods for managing designated species. These options include mechanical, chemical, and biological control methods. This enables counties and private landowners to select methods that align with their budgetary constraints, equipment availability, and environmental considerations. This flexibility minimizes compliance costs by allowing stakeholders to choose cost-effective methods suited to their specific circumstances.

An estimated total annual implementation and compliance costs reasonably expected to be incurred by or passed along to affected businesses, local governments, or individuals is $7,489.93. Because the cost of control and management of noxious weeds lies with the counties and landowners, there should be little to no changes in state revenues or expenditures.

The proposed regulations will increase the costs and impose additional responsibilities on the counties with added responsibilities for managing additional regulated plant species. KDA hosted a stakeholder meeting to discuss the proposed regulation changes on December 12, 2024. Many stakeholders were in attendance to provide their feedback, including weed management personnel from Butler, Douglas, Riley, Shawnee, and

State Fire Marshal

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Administrative Regulations

A public hearing will be conducted by the Office of the State Fire Marshal ("KSFM") at 1:00 p.m. Monday, April 13, 2026, in the Docking State Office Building, Room 126 (Twister), 1st Floor, 915 SW Harrison St., Topeka, KS 66612, regarding the proposed amendment of K.A.R. 22-5-1 and 22-5-2. These regulations support the Fire Safety and Prevention Act and relate to the reporting of fire incidents, casualties, and fire deaths.

K.A.R. 22-5-1. Reporting of incidents and casualties. KSFM proposes to amend this regulation to require local reporting through the updated federal National Emergency Response Information System (NERIS) instead of the discontinued NFIRS system. The amendment also changes the reporting deadline to fourteen (14) days after the incident and reassigns responsibility for submitting the report from the chief law enforcement officer to the county sheriff in locations where there is no chief of an organized fire department.

K.A.R. 22-5-2. Reporting of fire deaths. KSFM proposes to amend this regulation by removing the seventy-two (72) hour reporting deadline for fire deaths, requiring immediate reporting, and clarifying the purpose of such reporting.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal does not anticipate any significant economic or environmental impact on governmental agencies or units or the general public because of the changes to these regulations.

Copies of the proposed regulations and the economic impact statement may be found online at <https://firemarshal.ks.gov/158/Statutes-Regulations>, or by contacting Jared P. Smith at jared.smith@ks.gov.

This 60-day notice of the public hearing shall constitute a public comment period for the purpose of receiving written comments from the public on the proposed regulations. All interested parties may submit written public comments prior to the hearing to Jared P. Smith, Office of the State Fire Marshal, 800 SW Jackson St., Suite 104, Topeka, KS 66612, or via email at jared.smith@ks.gov. Additionally, interested parties wanting to participate remotely may contact Jared P. Smith at jared.smith@ks.gov to obtain remote access information.

All interested parties will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views, either orally, in writing, or both, concerning the proposed regulations. In order to give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to request that each participant limit any oral presentation to five minutes.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodations in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed regulations and economic impact statement in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation to participate in the hearing should be made at least five working days in advance of the hearing by contacting Jared P.
