This 60-day notice of the public hearing shall constitute a public comment period for the purpose of receiving written comments from the public on the proposed regulations. All interested parties may submit written public comments on the proposed regulations prior to the hearing to Kathleen Smith, tax specialist, Office of Policy and Research, Room 230, Docking State Office Building, 915 S.W. Harrison, Topeka, 66612, or through email at kathleen.smith@kdor.ks.gov.

All interested parties will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views, either orally or in writing or both, concerning the adoption of the proposed regulations. In order to give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to request that each participant limit any oral presentation to five minutes.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed regulations and economic impact statements in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation should be made at least five working days in advance of the hearing by contacting Kathleen Smith at 785-296-3081 or TTY 785-296-6461. Disabled parking is located in State Parking Lot No. 2, south of the Docking Building facing Harrison Street. The east entrance to the Docking Building is accessible.

These regulations are proposed for adoption on a permanent basis. A summary of the proposed regulations and the economic impacts follows:

Article 56.—IGNITION INTERLOCK DEVICES

Amendments to K.A.R. 92-56-1. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-1 modifies and adds defined terms to Article 56 of Chapter 92 of the Kansas Administrative Regulations.

Economic Impact: The Department of Revenue does not anticipate any impact on the department, other government agencies, or private businesses or individuals.

Amendments to K.A.R. 92-56-2. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-2 modifies required technical specifications for state-approved breath alcohol ignition interlock device (BAIID) installation and manages the BAIID manufacturer once it is approved to do business within the state.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have an economic impact upon the Department of Revenue. The department anticipates that changes to these regulations will require approximately 10 hours of work a week for the first year. The additional work shall be absorbed through existing positions.

The department anticipates that there will be substantial economic impact on some of the state's currently approved BAIID manufacturers. The department anticipates that two or three of the BAIID manufacturers are close to having physical locations in all 31 state judicial districts. Other BAIID manufacturers may have to bear additional expenses as they try to develop additional physical locations to satisfy the requirements. The department is softening the requirement by giving a grace period to all BAIID manufacturers for regulatory compliance to the new state judicial district rule.

Amendments to K.A.R. 92-56-4. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-4 modifies required installation, inspection and calibration standards for BAIID service providers in the state. The modifications are described below:

a. Reduction of the set point from .04 to .03. The set point is the amount of alcohol that is observed in a driver's breath wherein an amount equal to or greater in the driver's breath sample will result in the vehicle's ignition system being disabled.

b. Provide instruction on when rolling BAIID retests of the driver are to occur.

c. Shorten the default calibration cycle from 60 days to 30 days.

d. Clarify the BAIID service providers' responsibility that the device's anti-circumvention features must be enabled unless the service provider has received approval from the Division of Vehicles.

e. Create authority for the Division of Vehicles to conduct spot checks of BAIID manufacturers and their service providers.

f. Create standards for BAIID manufacturers when developing and maintaining the BAIID manufacturer's service providers.

g. Create a prohibition on BAIID service providers working on their own vehicles to satisfy state license sanction requirements.

h. Prohibit BAIID manufacturers from compelling state customers to travel outside the state to receive BAIID services.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have an economic impact upon the Department of Revenue. The department anticipates that changes to these regulations will require approximately 10 hours of work a week regarding the management and regulation of BAIID service providers. The department anticipates that there will be little or slight economic impact to the Kansas Department of Revenue based on the other modifications to the regulation. The additional work shall be absorbed through existing positions.

The department anticipates that there will be economic impact on some of the state's currently approved BAIID manufacturers. The following describes those impacts:

a. Slight economic impact to BAIID industry. Because the set point is being reduced to .03 from .04 there will be a proportional increase in test failures and lockouts, and that will lead to an increase in customer visits to BAIID service providers to inspect and recalibrate the BAIID. The customer can avoid these visits by not attempting to start his or her vehicle while he or she has alcohol in his/her system.

b. No economic impact.

c. This shortening of the calibration period will have an economic impact on the BAIID service providers for it will require more work. Rather than a 10- to 30-minute calibration once every 60 days, the BAIID service provider will be required to perform the work more frequently. This cost is reduced somewhat by the new requirement that a BAIID manufacturer have a fixed location in the state's judicial districts. The cost to the consumer should remain about the same because some BAIID service providers were charging a greater amount for the 60-day calibration check.

d. No economic impact.

e. No economic impact.

f. No economic impact.

g. No economic impact.

h. No economic impact.

Amendments to K.A.R. 92-56-5. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-5 modifies the Department of Revenue's revocation and suspension process for state-approved BAIID manufacturers. The modifications are described below:

a. The insurance requirement contained in K.A.R. 92-56-3 remains a continuing requirement for state certification and does not need to be addressed in the regulation.

b. The regulation is modified to specifically incorporate the other ignition interlock regulations and to emphasize that the BAIID manufacturer is responsible for the actions of its representative and service providers.

c. The regulation is modified to specifically address failures of a BAIID manufacturer to maintain and support an indigency program.

d. The regulation is modified to specifically address the department's authority to take action upon a BAIID manufacturer's failure to comply with the statewide coverage requirement of K.S.A. 8-1017.

e. The modification provides the department with authority to suspend a BAIID manufacturer rather than revoke such manufacturer. The modification also gives the department authority to compel a BAIID manufacturer to terminate its relationship with a problematic BAIID service provider.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have little economic impact upon the Department of Revenue.

The department anticipates that the most significant economic impact from this regulation will concern the new state judicial district requirement for BAIID manufacturers that will require all manufacturers have a greater physical location footprint throughout the state. Some BAIID manufacturers that do not currently promote a statewide network of service will have to undertake some expense to comply with the statute and these regulations.

Adoption of K.A.R. 92-56-6. Service provider; relocation and replacement. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-6 is a new regulation that clarifies a BAIID manufacturer's responsibilities when its service provider terminates its relationship with the BAIID manufacturer or when such manufacturer replaces a service provider with another service provider in the same state judicial district. The regulation provides the customer and Department of Revenue with direction when dealing with a BAIID manufacturer that temporarily or permanently moves out of a geographic area.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have little economic impact upon the Department of Revenue.

The department does not anticipate this regulation will have significant negative economic impact on BAIID manufacturers. A version of this regulation is found in many other states and the BAIID manufacturers are familiar with the requirement.

Adoption of K.A.R. 92-56-7. Security; tampering prohibitions; conflict of interest. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-7 is a new regulation that increases the level of professionalism required of BAIID service providers and manufacturer's representatives. The first part of the regulation prohibits a service provider from tampering with or circumventing the BAIID to assist a customer in avoiding his or her BAIID restriction requirements. The regulation also requires a BAIID service provider to not permit a customer to directly observe the installation and/or service of the BAIID. The purpose of such prohibition is to avoid empowering the customer with knowledge to tamper with or circumvent security features contained in the BAIID. The second part of the regulation prohibits a service provider, service provider's employee or manufacturer's representative from installing a BAIID in their own vehicle for purposes of satisfying Department of Revenue driver's license restriction requirements.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have no economic impact upon the Department of Revenue.

The department does not anticipate this regulation will have significant economic impact on BAIID manufacturers. A version of this regulation is found in many other states and the BAIID manufacturers are familiar with the requirement.

Adoption of K.A.R. 92-56-8. Device removal. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-8 is a new regulation that increases the level of professionalism required of BAIID service providers and manufacturer's representatives relating to the removal of the BAIID from the customer's vehicle.

In addition, the regulation creates explicit notification requirements for the BAIID service provider that will assist the customer and Division of Vehicles to transition the customer's driver's license status to regular driving privileges upon the completion of required license sanctions and controls.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have no economic impact upon the Department of Revenue.

The department does not anticipate this regulation will have significant economic impact on BAIID manufacturers. A version of this regulation is found in many other states and the BAIID manufacturers are familiar with the requirement.

Adoption of K.A.R. 92-56-9. Proof of installation. The proposed K.A.R. 92-56-9 is a new regulation that clarifies the requirement in K.S.A. 8-1015, and amendments thereto, that mandates the Division of Vehicles can only fully reinstate normal driving privileges once it has received proof of completion of any mandatory BAIID restriction period. The regulation also addresses rare instances wherein a customer is confronted with: 1) a disability that affects his or her ability to provide a normal breath sample; or 2) logistical problems based on the driver's state not having a BAIID program or alternative.

Economic Impact: The adoption of this regulation will have little economic impact upon the Department of Revenue. If there is any impact, it will be positive to the department for the regulation will assist the state's disabled and help the department address those cases on a case-by-case basis.

The department does not anticipate this regulation will have significant economic impact on other government agencies, private businesses or individuals.

A copy of these regulations and the economic impact statements may be obtained from the Kansas Department of Revenue, Office of Policy and Research, Room 230, Docking State Office Building, 915 S.W. Harrison, Topeka, 66612-1588, or via the department's website at www.ksrevenue.org.

Article 4.—BIG GAME

115-4-15. Restitution scoring system; white-tailed deer; mule deer; elk; antelope. (a) For the purpose of establishing restitution values, each of the following terms shall have the meaning specified in this subsection:

(1) "Abnormal point" means a point that is nontypical in shape or location.

(2) "Antler burr" means the elevated bony rim around the antler base of a deer or elk that is just above the skin of the pedicle.

(3) "First normal point" means the longest, first point immediately above, but not part of, the antler burr. If this point is branched, the longest and straightest portion of the point shall be used for measurement. All other points branching from this point shall be considered abnormal points.

(4) "Gross score" means the number derived by totaling certain measurements taken from the antlers or horns of a big game animal in accordance with this regulation.

(5) "Inside spread of the main antler beams" means the measurement at right angles to the center line of the skull at the widest point between main antler beams.

(6) "Length of the main antler beam" means the measurement from the lowest outside edge of the antler burr over the outer curve to the most distant point of what is or appears to be the main antler beam beginning at the place on the antler burr where the center line along the outer curve of the beam intersects the antler burr.

(7) "Normal point" means a point that projects from the main antler beam in a typical shape or location.

(8) "Point" means a projection on the antler of a deer or elk that is at least one inch long as measured from its tip to the nearest edge of the antler beam and the length of which exceeds the width at one inch or more of length. "Point" shall not include an antler beam tip.

(b) All measurements shall be made to the nearest 1/8 of an inch using a flexible steel tape that is 1/4 inch wide.

(c) The gross score of an antlered whitetail deer shall be determined by adding together all of the following measurements:

(1) The inside spread of the main antler beams, not to exceed the length of the longest main antler beam;

(2) the length of the main antler beam on the deer's right side;

(3) the length of the main antler beam on the deer's left side;

(4) the total length of all abnormal points on the right and left antlers;

(5) the total length of all normal points on the right and left antlers as measured from the nearest edge of the main antler beam over the outer curve to the tip. To determine the baseline for normal point measurement, the tape shall be laid along the outer curve of the antler beam so that the top edge of the tape coincides with the top edge of the antler beam on both sides of the point; and

(A) The circumference taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the first normal point on the main antler beam. If the first normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the second normal point;

(B) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the first normal point and the second normal point on the main antler beam. If the first normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the second normal point;

(C) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the second normal point and the third normal point on the main antler beam; and

(D) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the third normal point and the fourth normal point on the main antler beam. If the fourth normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken halfway between the third normal point and the tip of the main antler beam.

(d) The gross score of an antlered mule deer shall be determined by adding together all of the following measurements:

(1) The inside spread of the main antler beams, not to exceed the length of the longest main antler beam;

(2) the length of the main antler beam on the deer's right side;

(3) the length of the main antler beam on the deer's left side;

(4) the total length of all abnormal points on the right and left antlers;

(5) the total length of all normal points on the right and left antlers as measured from the nearest edge of the main antler beam over the outer curve to the tip. To determine the baseline for normal point measurement, the tape shall be laid along the outer curve of the antler beam so that the top edge of the tape coincides with the top edge of the antler beam on both sides of the point; and

(A) The circumference taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the first normal point on the main antler beam. If the first normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the second normal point;

(B) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the first normal point and the second normal point on the main antler beam. If the first normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken at the smallest place between the antler burr and the second normal point;

(C) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the main antler beam and the third normal point; and

(D) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the second normal point and the fourth normal point. If the fourth normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken halfway between the second normal point and the tip of the main antler beam.

(e) The gross score of an antlered elk shall be determined by adding together all of the following measurements:

(1) The inside spread of the main antler beams, not to exceed the length of the longest main antler beam;

(2) the length of the main antler beam on the elk's right side;

(3) the length of the main antler beam on the elk's left side;

(4) the total length of all abnormal points on the right and left antlers;

(5) the total length of all normal points on the right and left antlers as measured from the nearest edge of the main antler beam over the outer curve to the tip. To determine the baseline for normal point measurement, the tape shall be laid along the outer curve of the antler beam so that the top edge of the tape coincides with the top edge of the antler beam on both sides of the point; and

(A) The circumference taken at the smallest place between the first normal point and the second normal point on the main antler beam;

(B) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the second normal point and the third normal point on the main antler beam;

(C) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the third normal point and the fourth normal point on the main antler beam; and

(D) the circumference taken at the smallest place between the fourth normal point and the fifth normal point on the main antler beam. If the fifth normal point is missing, the circumference shall be taken halfway between the fourth normal point and the tip of the main antler beam.

(f) The gross score of an antelope shall be determined by adding together all of the following measurements:

(1) The length of the right horn measured along the center of the outer curve from the tip of the horn to a point in line with the lowest edge of the base, using a straight edge to establish the line end;

(2) the length of the left horn measured along the center of the outer curve from the tip of the horn to a point in line with the lowest edge of the base, using a straight edge to establish the line end;

(3) the circumference of the base of each horn, measured at a right angle to the axis of the horn, not to follow the irregular edge of the horn. The line of the measurement shall be entirely on horn material;

(4) three circumference measurements on each horn based on the criteria specified in this paragraph. The length of the longest horn shall be divided by four. Starting at the base, each horn shall be marked at these quarters, even though the other horn may be shorter. The circumference shall be measured at these marks at a right angle to the axis of the horn. If the prong of the horn interferes with the first measurement from the base, this measurement shall be taken immediately below the swelling of the prong. If the second measurement from the base falls in the swelling of the prong, this measurement shall be taken immediately above the swelling of the prong; and

(5) the length of the prong measured from the tip of the prong along the upper edge of the outer side to the horn, then continuing around the horn, at a right angle to the long axis of the horn, to a point at the rear of the horn where a straight edge crossing the back of both horns touches the horn. If there is a crack where the prong extends from the horn, the length of the prong shall be taken passing over the entire crack. Once the initial prong length is taken, the width of the crack shall be measured and deducted from the initial prong length. The adjusted length shall be the recorded length of the prong. (Authorized by and implementing K.S.A. 2013 Supp. 32-807 and 32-1032; effective Jan. 1, 2013; amended Feb. 7, 2014.)
